

ESSO-EYSAC Hands on Course on Liver Surgery

In partnership with Medical University Innsbruck

7 - 8 April 2025
Innsbruck, Austria

Chairs

Stefan Stättner, Salzkammergutklinikum OÖG, Vöcklabruck, AT
Eva Braunwarth, Medical University of Innsbruck, Innsbruck, AT
Manuel Maglione, Medical University of Innsbruck, Innsbruck, AT Florian Primavesi, Salzkammergutklinikum OÖG, Vöcklabruck, AT

This course is a hands-on workshop for surgical anatomy, operative and interventional technics for liver tumours. The course will focus on obtaining thorough understanding of functional liver anatomy and the technical aspects necessary for aspiring liver surgeons. Furthermore, surgically relevant liver diseases, diagnostics, perioperative management, radiological interventions and the role of transplantation for liver diseases will be discussed in an evidence-based, multidisciplinary environment.

Educational methods

- Hands on cadaver sessions
- Educational videos and 3D-Anatomy atlas
- Case-discussion session
- Video-based learning
- Plenary lectures

Main topics

- Liver anatomy and anatomical variations
- Tumour biology for liver surgeons
- Primary liver tumours
- Secondary liver tumours
- Tips and tricks for intraoperative ultrasound, vascular resection and bilioenteric reconstruction
- Tips and tricks for conventional and advanced procedures

Target audience

Young surgeons, surgical residents or registrars interested in liver surgery/surgical oncology of the livers

Registration

For information on registration fee, and to register in this course: visit our site at www.essoweb.org

